

RECREATION (PARTICIPATORY)

Trail System

- i Central Canal Towpath is more than five miles long, from the Canal's headwater in Broad Ripple to its south terminus at 30th Street. Along the way, users can enjoy two restored 19th Century bridges (one of which connects to the gardens and grounds of the Indianapolis Museum of Art) and a new pedestrian bridge in bustling Broad Ripple Village.
- i Eagle Creek Trail complete from 56th Street to 46th Street on west side of Indy.
- i Fall Creek Trail, the vintage greenway will eventually connect downtown Indy with northeast Marion County.
- i Monon Trail measures 10.5 miles from 10th to 96th Streets, where it connects with the 5-mile Monon Greenway of Carmel and ends at 146th St. Bike rentals are available at the Broad Ripple section and in Carmel.
- i Pleasant Run Trail connects several community parks. The south end of the trail is in the northwest corner of Garfield Park, near the intersection of Raymond Street and Pleasant Run Parkway. Ellenberger Park is the northeast terminus of the trail, at Michigan Street and Pleasant Run Parkway.
- i Pogues Run Trail is a crushed limestone path from Brookside Park, at 16th Street and Sherman Drive on the city's east side, to Spades Park. The trail may be used for walking, running, bicycling and cross country skiing.
- i Town Run Trail Park mountain bikers have an extraordinary local spot for their sport. This is one of the best venues in the area for off-road riding and hiking. Located east of Allisonville Road on 96th Street along White River.
- i White River Wapahani Trail is the longest greenway in Marion County, and takes on many moods in its winding path through the city. Already, White River Wapahani Trail is nearly five miles long, from 38th Street south to White River State Park, with several more miles planned.
