Fountain Square is a historic neighborhood with a town square and central fountain like a European village. This thriving artist community blends retro and new art influences in its architecture and style creating a funky mix of independent businesses. This is a one of a kind destination located 1 ½ miles southeast of downtown Indianapolis.

Art galleries, artist studios and many antique stores can be found in Fountain Square. An abundance of independent restaurants and a skyline view of downtown from the roof top of the famous Fountain Square Theatre building await your visit.
